The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament, passed in the sixth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to regulate the " trade of the British possessions abroad," after reciting, that " by the Law of Navigation foreign " ships are permitted to import into any of the " British possessions abroad, from the countries to " which they belong, goods, the produce of those " countries, and to export goods from such posses- " sions to be carried to any foreign country what- " ever, and that it is expedient that such permission " should be subject to certain conditions," it is enacted,

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 1, 1828.

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Tuesday, January 29, 1828.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by His Majesty to acquaint you, that His Majesty continues to receive, from all Foreign Princes and States, assurances of, their desire to maintain the relations of amity with this country; and that the Great Powers of Europe participate in the earnest wish of His Majesty to cultivate a good understanding upon all points which may conduce to the preservation of peace.

His Majesty has viewed for some time past, with great concern, the state of affairs in the East of Europe.

For several years a contest has been carried on between the Ottoman Porte and the inhabitants of the Greek provinces and islands, which has been marked on each side by excesses revolting to humanity.

In the progress of that contest, the rights of Neutral States, and the laws which regulate the intercourse of civilized Nations, have been repeatedly violated, and the peaceful commerce of His Majesty's subjects has been exposed to frequent interruption, and to depredations, too often aggravated by acts of violence and atrocity.

His Majesty has felt the deepest anxiety to terminate the calamities, and avert the dangers, inseparable from hostilities, which constitute the only exception to the general tranquillity of Europe.

Having been earnestly entreated by the Greeks to interpose His good offices, with a view to effect a reconciliation between them and the Ottoman Porte, His Majesty concerted measures for that purpose, in the first instance with the Emperor of Russia, and subsequently with His Imperial Majesty and the King of France.

His Majesty has given directions that there should be laid before you copies of a Protocol signed at Saint Petersburg by the Plenipotentiaries of His Majesty and of His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Russia, on the 4th of April 1826, and of the Treaty entered into between His Majesty and the Courts of the Tuilleries and of Saint Petersburg, on the 6th of July 1827.

In the course of the measures adopted with a view to carry into effect the object of the Treaty, a collision, wholly unexpected by His Majesty, took place in the port of Navarre, between the fleets of the Contracting Powers and that of the Ottoman Porte.

Notwithstanding the valour displayed by the combined fleet, His Majesty deeply laments that this conflict should have occurred with the naval force of an ancient Ally; but he still entertains a confident hope, hope, that this untoward event will not be followed by further hostilities, and will not impede that amicable adjustment of the existing differences between the Porte and the Greeks, to which it is so manifestly their common interest to accede.

In maintaining the national faith by adhering to the engagements into which His Majesty has entered, His Majesty will never lose sight of the great objects to which all His efforts have been directed—the termination of the contest between the hostile parties—the permanent settlement of their future relations to each other—and the maintenance of the repose of Europe upon the basis on which it has rested since the last general Treaty of Peace.

His Majesty has the greatest satisfaction in informing you, that the purposes for which His Majesty, upon the requisition of the Court of Lisbon, detached a military force to Portugal, have been accomplished. The obligations of good faith having been fulfilled, and the safety and independence of Portugal secured, His Majesty has given orders that the forces now in that country should be immediately withdrawn.

We are commanded by His Majesty to acquaint you, that His Majesty has concluded Treaties of Amity and Commerce with the Emperor of Brazil, and with the United States of Mexico; copies of which will, by His Majesty's commands, be laid before you.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

His Majesty has ordered the estimates for the current year to be laid before you. They have been prepared with every regard to economy, consistent with the exigency of the public service.

We are commanded by His Majesty to recommend to your early attention, an enquiry into the state of the revenue and expenditure of the country.

His Majesty is assured that it will be satisfactory to you to learn, that notwithstanding the diminution which has taken place in some branches of the revenue, the total amount of receipt during the last year has not disappointed the expectations which were entertained at the commencement of it.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

His Majesty has commanded us to inform you, that a considerable increase has taken place in the export of the principal articles of British manufacture. This improvement of our foreign trade has led to a more general employment of the population, and affords a satisfactory indication of the continued abatement of those commercial difficulties which recently affected so severely the national industry.

His Majesty commands us to assure you, that He places the firmest reliance upon your continued endeavours to improve the condition of all classes of His subjects, and to advance the great object of His Majesty's solicitude, the prosperity and happiness of His people.

Court of King's-Bench, January 31, 1828.

The following Warrant, under the King's Sign Manual, having been issued under the authority of the Statute 3 George IVth, cap. 102, was this day openly and publicly notified and declared in this Court, in pursuance of the said Statute, viz.

Warrant authorising the Judges to hold a Special Sitting.

GEORGE, R.

Whereas by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third year of Our reign, intituled "An Act to repeal an Act, of the first and second year of His present Majesty, for facilitating the dispatch of business in the Court of King's-

King's-Bench, and to make further provisions in lieu thereof," it is, among other things, enacted, that from and after the passing of the said Act, it shall and may be lawful to and for Us, Our heirs and successors, and We and They are thereby authorised, from time to time, as to Us or Them shall seem meet, by Warrant under Our or Their Sign Manual, directed to the Judges of Our said Court, to direct and require the Judges of Our said Court, or any two or more of them, to meet at Serjeants-Inn-Hall, Westminster-Hall, or some other convenient place to be by them appointed, on such and so many days in the vacation or interval between any Terms as to Us, Our heirs and successors, shall seem fit and proper, for the dispatch of such matters, as at the end of the Term mentioned in such Warrant may be depending in Our said Court, whether on the Crown or Plea side thereof; and whereas We have been given to understand, that numerous matters are now depending in Our said Court, which cannot be dispatched during this present Hilary Term, and which ought to be dispatched with all convenient speed; now, therefore, We do hereby, in pursuance of the said Act, direct and require you the Lord Chief Justice, and the other Judges of Our said Court before Us, or any two or more of you, to meet at Serjeants-Inn-Hall, Westminster-Hall, or some other convenient place to be by you appointed according to the said Act, on Wednesday the thirteenth day of February next, and from thence daily until Thursday the twenty-first of the said month of February inclusive, for the dispatch of such matters as may be depending in Our said Court at the end of this present Hilary Term, whether on the Crown or Plea side thereof; provided always, that if the attendance of any one of you at the Session of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery for the county of Middlesex, or at any such Session or any Circuit, shall be

be found requisite, during any part of the time herein mentioned, and another of you shall also, during such attendance, be sitting for the trial of causes at Nisi Prius, then it shall be in the discretion of the remaining two of you either to meet or not to meet, in obedience hereto, according to the nature of the business that may be likely to come before you during such attendance.

Given at Our Court at Windsor, the twenty-ninth day of January one thousand eight hundred and twenty-eight, in the ninth year of Our reign.

At the Court at St. James's, the 28th day of April 1828,
PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council,

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament, passed in the sixth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to regulate the " trade of the British possessions abroad," after reciting, that " by the Law of Navigation foreign
" ships are permitted to import into any of the " British possessions abroad, from the countries to " which they belong, goods, the produce of those " countries, and to export goods from such posses" sions to be carried to any foreign country what" ever, and that it is expedient that such permission
" should be subject to certain conditions," it is enacted, " that the privileges thereby granted to " foreign ships shall be limited to the ships of those " countries which, having colonial possessions, shall
" grant the like privileges of trading with those " possessions to British ships, or which, not having
" colonial possessions, shall place the commerce
" and navigation of this country, and of its posses" sions abroad, upon the footing of the most favoured
" nation, unless His Majesty, by His Order in " Council, shall in any case deem it expedient to " grant the whole or any of such privileges to the " ships

“ ships of any foreign country, although the con“ ditions aforesaid shall not in all respects be fulfilled
“ by such foreign country:”

And whereas by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of His present Majesty's reign, intituled “ An Act to amend the laws relating to the Customs,” after reciting or taking notice of the said Act so passed as aforesaid in the sixth year of His Majesty's reign, and after reciting, that unless some period were limited for the fulfilment by foreign countries of the conditions mentioned and referred to in the said recited Act, the trade and navigation of the United Kingdom and of the British possessions abroad, could not be regulated by fixed and certain rules, but would continue subject to changes dependent upon the laws from time to time made in such foreign countries ; it is therefore enacted, that no foreign country shall hereafter be deemed to have fulfilled the conditions so prescribed as aforesaid in and by the said Act, as to be entitled to the privileges therein mentioned, unless such foreign country had in all respects fulfilled those conditions within twelve months next after the passing of the said Act, that is to say, on or before the fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six ; and for the better ascertaining what particular foreign countries are permitted by law to exercise and enjoy the said privileges, it is further enacted, that no foreign country shall hereafter be deemed to have fulfilled the beforementioned conditions, or to be entitled to the privileges aforesaid, unless and until His Majesty shall by some Order or Orders to be by him made, by the advice of His Privy Council, have declared that such foreign country hath so fulfilled the said conditions, and is entitled to the said privileges ; provided always, and it is thereby declared and enacted, that nothing therein contained, extends, or shall be construed to extend, to make void or annul any any Order or Orders in Council theretofore issued, under the authority or in pursuance of the said recited Act, or to take away or abridge the powers vested in His Majesty in and by the said Act, or any of those powers, any thing therein contained to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding :

And wheras the conditions mentioned and referred to in the said Acts of Parliament have not in all respects been fulfilled by the Government of His Most Catholic Majesty the King of Spain, and therefore the privileges so granted as aforesaid by the Law of Navigation to foreign ships, cannot lawfully be exercis'd or enjoyed by the ships of Spain, unless His Majesty, by His Order in Council, shall grant the whole or any of such privileges to such Spanish ships :

And whereas His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, doth deem it expedient to grant the privileges aforesaid, in certain cases, to ships of the dominions of His Most Catholic Majesty the King of Spain, His Majesty doth therefore, by the advice aforesaid, and in pursuance and exercis'e of the powers and authority in him vested by the said recited Acts of Parliament, declare and grant, that it shall and may be lawful for Spanish ships to import into any of the British possessions abroad, from the colonies and foreign plantations of His Most Catholic Majesty, goods, the produce of those colonies and possessions, and to export goods from such British possessions abroad, to be carried to any foreign country whatever:

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Right Honourable William Huskisson, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them may respectively appertain.

LONDON GAZETTE of JULY 29, 1828.

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Monday, July 28, 1828.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by His Majesty to acquaint you, that the business of the session having been brought to a close, His Majesty is enabled to release you from your attendance in Parliament.

His Majesty commands us, at the same time, to return to you His warm acknowledgements for the zeal and diligence with which you have applied yourselves to the consideration of many subjects, of great importance to the public welfare.

The provisions which you have made for the regulation of the import of corn, combining adequate protection for domestic agriculture with due precaution against the consequences of a deficient harvest, will, in the confident expectation of His Majesty, promote the inseparable interests of all classes of His subjects.

We are commanded by His Majesty to acquaint you, that His Majesty continues to receive from His Allies, and from all Foreign Powers, assurances of their friendly disposition towards this country.

The endeavours of His Majesty to effect the pacification of Greece, in concert with His Allies, the King of France and the Emperor of Russia, have continued unabated.

His Imperial Majesty has found himself under the the necessity of declaring war against the Ottoman Porte, upon grounds concerning exclusively the interests of his own dominions, and unconnected with the stipulations of the Treaty of 6th July 1827.

His Majesty deeply laments the occurrence of these hostilities, and will omit no effort of friendly interposition to restore peace.

The determination of the Powers, parties to the Treaty of the 6th July, to effect the objects of that Treaty, remains unchanged.

His Imperial Majesty has consented to waive the exercise, in the Mediterranean Sea, of any rights appertaining to His Imperial Majesty in the character of a Belligerent Power, and to recall the separate instructions which had been given to the Commander of his Naval forces in that sea, directing hostile operations against the Ottoman Porte.

His Majesty will, therefore, continue to combine His efforts with those of the King of France and His Imperial Majesty, for the purpose of carrying into complete execution the stipulations of the Treaty of London.

His Majesty commands us to acquaint you, that His Majesty had every reason to hope, when He last addressed you, that the arrangements which had been made for administering the Government of Portugal, until the period at which the Emperor of Brazil should have completed his abdication of the Throne of Portugal, would have secured the peace and promoted the happiness of a country, in the welfare of which His Majesty has ever taken the deepest interest.

The just expectations of His Majesty have been disappointed; and measures have been adopted in Portugal, in disregard of the earnest advice and repeated remonstrances of His Majesty, which have compelled His Majesty, and the other Powers of Europe acting in concert with His Majesty, to withdraw their representatives from Lisbon.

His Majesty relies upon the wisdom of the august Sovereign, the head of the House of Braganza, to take the course which shall be best calculated to maintain the interests and honour of that illustrious Family, and to secure the peace and happiness of the dominions over which it reigns.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

We are commanded by His Majesty to thank you for the supplies which you have granted to Him for the service of the present year ; His Majesty will apply them with the utmost regard to economy, and will continue a deliberate revision of the several public establishments, with a view to any further reduction which may be compatible with the dignity of the Crown, and with the permanent interests of the country.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

His Majesty commands us to congratulate you upon the general prosperity of the country, and upon the satisfactory state of the public revenue.

His Majesty contemplates the increase of our financial resources with peculiar gratification, on account of the decisive proof which it exhibits, that the condition of His subjects is one of progressive improvement.

His Majesty commands us, in conclusion, to assure you, that His unabated exertions will be directed to inculcate among Foreign Powers a spirit of mutual goodwill ; and to encourage the industry, to extend the commerce, and advance the general welfare of His own dominions.

Then a Commission for proroguing the Parliament was read; after which the Lord Chancellor said;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

By virtue of His Majesty's Commission, under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in His Majesty's name, and in obedience to His commands, prorogue this Parliament to Thursday the 28th day of August next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the 28th day of August next.

Extract of a Letter from Captain Lyons, of His Majesty's Ship Blonde, to Vice-Admiral Sir Pulteney Malcolm, K. C. B. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Squadron in the Mediterranean, dated off Morea-Castle, the 30th October 1828.

IN obeying your order to act in concert with the Senior Officer of His Most Christian Majesty's ships, I have had the good fortune of finding myself associated with those distinguished Officers, Captains Mauduit Duplessis, of La Duchesse de Berri ; Hugon, of L'Armide ; and Villeneuve, of La Didon ; and in detailing the proceedings of the Blonde, I at the same time describe those of the French frigates, for I assure you, that throughout an arduous service of twelve days and nights, in very unfavourable weather, the most perfect concert and hearty co-operation have been invariably manifested.

On the 18th instant, General Schneider expressed a wish that four eighteen-pounders should be landed from each ship ; and in less than four hours they were on shore, with all their appointments ; the difficulties occasioned by the surf on the beach being overcome by the fine spirit which animated all, French and English being in the water mutually assisting each other. In this operation, the zeal and intelligence of Lieutenant Saumarez Brock were very conspicuous.

On the 20th instant, Lieutenants Luekraft and Daeres; Messrs. Mockler, Hay, Blair, and Austen, Mates; and Messrs. de Saumarez, Kennedy, Hawkins, and Dor, Midshipmen, landed with a party of seamen, and commenced making the batteries, under the direetion of the Freneh Offieers of Engineers and Artillery.

At nine o'eloek on the 22d, the battery opened its fire on Morea Castle, and in a few hours sileneed the guns opposed to it; but as the army advaneed in their approaehes to the breaching battery, the Castle opened fresh guns, whieh rendered it necessary for the marine battery to fire, at intervals, for eight days and nights.

Last evening, the guns of the frigates, with two twenty-four-pounders, whieh Admiral de Rigny landed from the Conquerant on his arrival, and sueh of the battering train as the weather enabled us to disem-bark, were fairly established in the two breaching batteries, named by General Maison, Charles X. and George IV. the French and English guns being promiseuously placed in each; and at day-light this morning, together with the mortar battery and the $\text{\textcircled{E}}$ tna bomb, opened such a tremendous fire on the Castle as to produce, in four hours, an unconditional surrender.

I am sure you will be glad to find, that the zeal and professional talent exhibited by Captain Lushington, his Offieers, and ship's company, have exedited the admiration of all.

The $\text{\textcircled{E}}$ tna was worked up in the night, under reefed courses and close reefed topsails, anchored, and sprung, with such precision, within eight hundred yards of the Castle, as to enable that intelligent Offieer, Lieutenant Logan, of the royal marine artillery, to throw one hundred and two shells into the Castle, only the first four going too far. Captain Lushington assures me, that he received the most valuable assistance from Lieutenant Walker.
